

Diagnosis & Treatment for Digestive Health

Value-based care for gastrointestinal conditions like IBS, IBD and GERD. Whole-person care from diagnosis to symptom control achieves improved satisfaction, quality of life and work productivity, and lower overall cost.

OSHI HEALTH®

THE SILENT AND SIGNIFICANT IMPACT OF GI CONDITIONS

25% of working-age Americans suffer with chronic GI conditions

Traditional gastrointestinal care is expensive, hard to access and not meeting patient needs. The reactive approach and propensity for procedures and medications leave patients unsupported and struggling until things escalate and result in ER visits.

2 Days

missed work per month; IBS is the 2nd leading of absenteeism after the common cold

$136B

cost of digestive health conditions, consistently a top cost driver

4th

largest cost category for employers, yet stigma and payment incentives hides the true impact

71%

of IBS patients are not satisfied with their care

REDESIGNED DIGESTIVE CARE

Whole-Person

Our integrated clinical team takes time to identify the root cause of symptoms and support patients with a whole-person treatment plan.

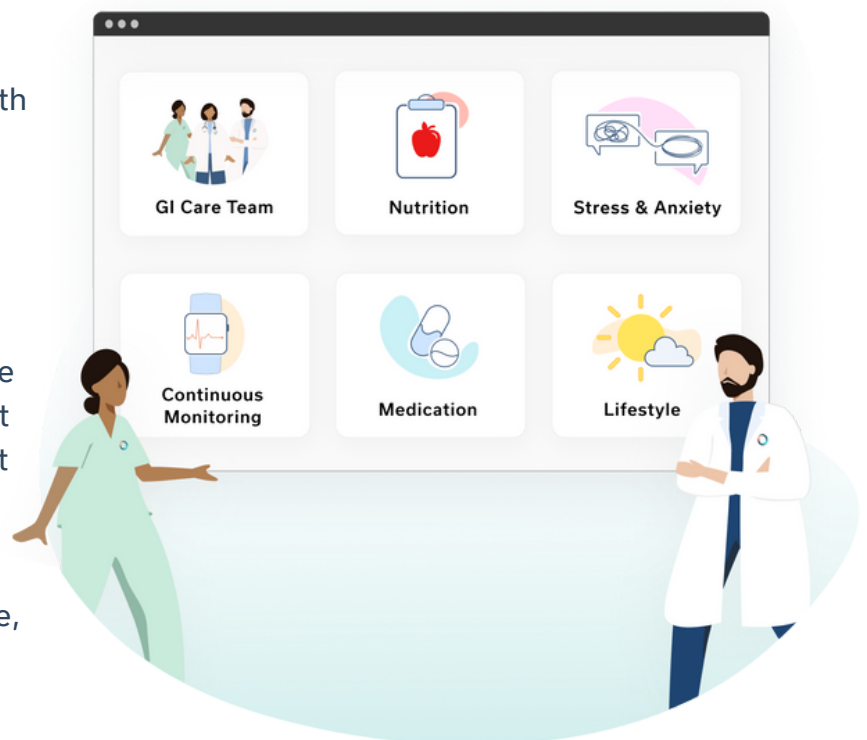

High-Touch

Our virtual-first model allows more frequent touch points between patients and our GI-specialized care team when they need support most from work, home or any convenient location.

Value-Based

We are not driven by fee-for-service, volume-based incentives. Our relationship-based, ongoing care focuses on improving patient lives while lowering total cost.
